

DDAWNY Press Conference

From the WIVB Website (Click here to link to the whole article) , coverage of the DDAWNY Press Conference discussing the Governor's Proposed Budget:

More than 100 parents attended a meeting of the Developmental Disability Alliance. These parents and support staff are coping with $152 million in cuts for their kids in western New York.

>>>You can watch more of the press conference held by the Developmental Disability Alliance by following this link

Wendy McCarthy of the Developmental Disability Alliance said, "We have a significant wait list of 1,000 people who are looking for residential opportunity and while the budget does provide for some new development, it does not significantly impact the current situation."